

WHERE REVOLUTION IS RIFE

St. Petersburg, capital of Russia. Winter home of the Czar. Population, 1,250,000. Where revolt started. Moscow, the Holy City of Russia, the national center of the Muscovite race, one of the great manufacturing cities of the world. Population, 1,200,000. Radosin, capital of Russian Poland. It has 800,000 inhabitants. Sixty-five miles south of Warsaw, on the road to Vienna. Kovno, capital of the Russian government of that name. A first-class fortress, 500 miles southwest of St. Petersburg. Population about 500,000. Vilna, capital of the government of West Russia. Population, 1,500,000. It is the old capital of Lithuania. It is 430 miles southwest of St. Petersburg. It was entered in triumph by Napoleon in 1812.

(Continued from Second Page.)

me the truth about this movement among the people.

"What does it all mean?" "Is my life or throne endangered?" The grand dukes, it is said, sought to calm his majesty by misleading information.

Many persons believe his majesty is really ignorant of the full extent of the movement.

Plot for Czar's Throne.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Your correspondent this morning showed the dispatch asserting that the Czar had been informed regarding the movement of the strikers to a person who is in receipt of information from the innermost diplomatic and court circles in St. Petersburg. He is in a position to speak with the highest authority.

He said: "Every word in the telegram of your correspondent is true. The actual fact is that the present movement is no mere industrial uprising; it is not even a political insurrection."

To Crown Vladimir.

"Its real character is an attempt by the grand dukes, led by Grand Duke Vladimir, to depose the Czar and seize the Russian throne for Vladimir."

"It was Vladimir who permitted the strike to grow."

"It was Vladimir who prevented the Czar from receiving the strikers."

"It was Vladimir who ordered Sunday's massacre."

"His object, assisted by the other grand dukes, is to foment discord between the people and the Czar, and when the time is ripe, if it ever becomes ripe, he will turn to the army and say to it:

"See what a weakling occupies the Russian throne. See how he trembles before the voice of the people. Depose him and place me in his stead and you and I will save Russia."

Seizing an Opportunity.

"There is no room to doubt, as far as my information goes, the absolute truth of this fact. Grand Duke Vladimir, who before the birth of the Czar was second in succession to the throne, now sees his dreams of legitimately obtaining power dispelled by a tiny baby. He has been driven to desperation and he is now seizing the opportunity to make himself Czar."

"It is absurd to suppose the St. Petersburg police, with its dictatorial power, could not have prevented the strike agitation growing as it has grown. Yesterday week as a matter of fact, Vladimir assisted its growth by every means in his power, in order to cause just such a situation as has now been created."

Czar Kept in Ignorance.

"The Czar has been kept practically in complete ignorance of the demands of the strikers. I have no doubt but that he does not know as much about the present trouble as do the American newspaper readers."

"He has received a part of Father Gapon's petition, but not all of it. He wanted to see the strikers and discuss their grievances with them, but Vladimir worked on his weak nature and persuaded him that the whole affair was a plot to assassinate him."

"Vladimir's contention was combatted by the Czarina who knows the inside situation and who is doing everything to save the throne for her baby. She begged and implored the Czar to meet the workmen. But Vladimir's influence outweighed hers. The Czar, at the last moment, declined to confer with the strikers."

"How the matter will end nobody can tell."

"Everything depends on the army."

"Whosoever it decides shall occupy the throne for the future, whether it decides to continue Nicholas or elevate Vladimir, its word cannot be changed by law."

TREPOFF DICTATOR AT ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—The issuance of the imperial decree, vesting in General Trepoff, the new governor general of St. Petersburg, practically dictatorial powers, has stirred the strikers to prosecute their propaganda against absolutism with even greater fervor and determination.

They realize that Trepoff was chosen and the post established for him for the reason that he is known to be a man of extreme severity and cruelty, and is goaded on by hatred for the peasants who, according to report, have tried to assassinate him.

The People's Enemy.

The Czar, the strike leaders assert, has met their demands for the overthrow of absolutism by outdoing absolutism itself. Instead of alleviating the galling conditions of government in St. Petersburg, he has placed in the hands of a man, known to be the enemy of the people, the powers of a dictator.

This man holds in his hands their lives, their liberties, their very means of existence.

Some idea of the powers which General Trepoff now holds may be gathered from the imperial decree, which states the governor general will control the departments of administration in the city and government of St. Petersburg.

He has the power to demand the assistance of the militia.

He possesses all the rights of the minister of the interior, and hence is over the zemstvos themselves.

He has the power of appointments to

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no medicine manufactured that has received more voluntary praise or more expressions of gratitude from people who have been cured by it, than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. From long experience in the use of this preparation, people have found that it not only gives quick relief but effects a permanent cure, and that it can always be relied upon. The fact that it is pleasant to take, also that it contains no harmful drug is of much importance when a medicine is intended for young children. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

the municipal council and may thus, through his tools appointed, formulate and execute according to his own ideas and desires whatever laws he desires. He has the right to forbid individuals to remain in the city, and may close the gates of the capital to anyone he may wish to exclude.

In addition to this he has control of the censorship.

May Muzzle the Press.

The statute regarding the censorship says those in control have the right to forbid the publication of a newspaper if necessary, and forbid comments in the press on certain questions of great importance during any special period. This means that Trepoff may, if he so desires, close every newspaper office in the city.

The "Official Messenger," which published this imperial decree, appointing General Trepoff, announces the resignation of General Foulon as chief of police of St. Petersburg, but makes no mention of the latter's appointment as governor general of Warsaw.

It is believed, however, that Foulon will leave for Warsaw shortly.

Installed in Winter Palace.

General Trepoff was installed in the Winter Palace with full power to use whatever means he saw fit for the restoration of order.

He immediately summoned the district chiefs of police and asked them to act with energy. He then summoned the commanders of the military positions around the city and received their reports.

The new prefect will today issue a proclamation declaring that men who wish to work will be protected and that persons who interfere with them will be arrested and deported to their native villages or to Siberia. All excesses will be punished with the utmost severity.

The appointment of the brutal Trepoff added fresh bitterness to the anger of the residents. The people, exasperated at this provincial policeman established at the Winter Palace as the city's dictator.

He was clothed with Minister Kokovtsov last evening, considering plans for reopening the government factories.

STRIKE ASCRIBED TO TOLSTOI

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—The name of Count Leo Tolstoi is now being associated with the present strike propaganda.

Father Gapon is an ardent follower of Tolstoi, which is the principal reason he is advising that no violence be resorted to wherever avoidable.

It is reported today that a letter from Tolstoi may be expected soon giving the author's views on the strike.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Count Tchertoff, the English representative of Leo Tolstoi, when shown the dispatch from St. Petersburg, connecting the author's name with the present strike in Russia, said he had no information to impart at yet.

REWARDED FOR HALTING RIOTS

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—Several official changes were announced this morning.

General Foulon, chief of police of St. Petersburg, has been appointed governor general of Warsaw as a reward for the suppression of Sunday's riots.

The notorious reactionist, General Trepoff, formerly chief of police of Moscow, has been appointed governor general of St. Petersburg.

General Frisch has been made chief of police of St. Petersburg.

Generals Trepoff and Frisch both have a reputation for extreme severity.

JAPAN TO FORM SPECIAL SQUADRON

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—Announcement was made by the navy department today that a special service squadron was about to be formed.

The announcement contained no details.

NEW UPRISING ON TOMORROW

LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated in Russian revolutionary circles here that the organization is active in London and Paris arranging to supply funds and material for a general provincial revolt in Russia on Thursday or Friday of this week.

The day of this revolt is expected to prove a far bloodier one than Sunday last. It will then be seen whether the rising is to be national or merely metropolitan.

Circulating Propaganda.

By that time it is expected a plain statement of the revolutionary aims which have been printed by hundreds of thousands, will have been circulated throughout western and southern Russia. The peasants will then all know just what are the bases of the uprising.

The difficulty encountered in smuggling these manifestos into Russia in large quantities has retarded the movement thus far.

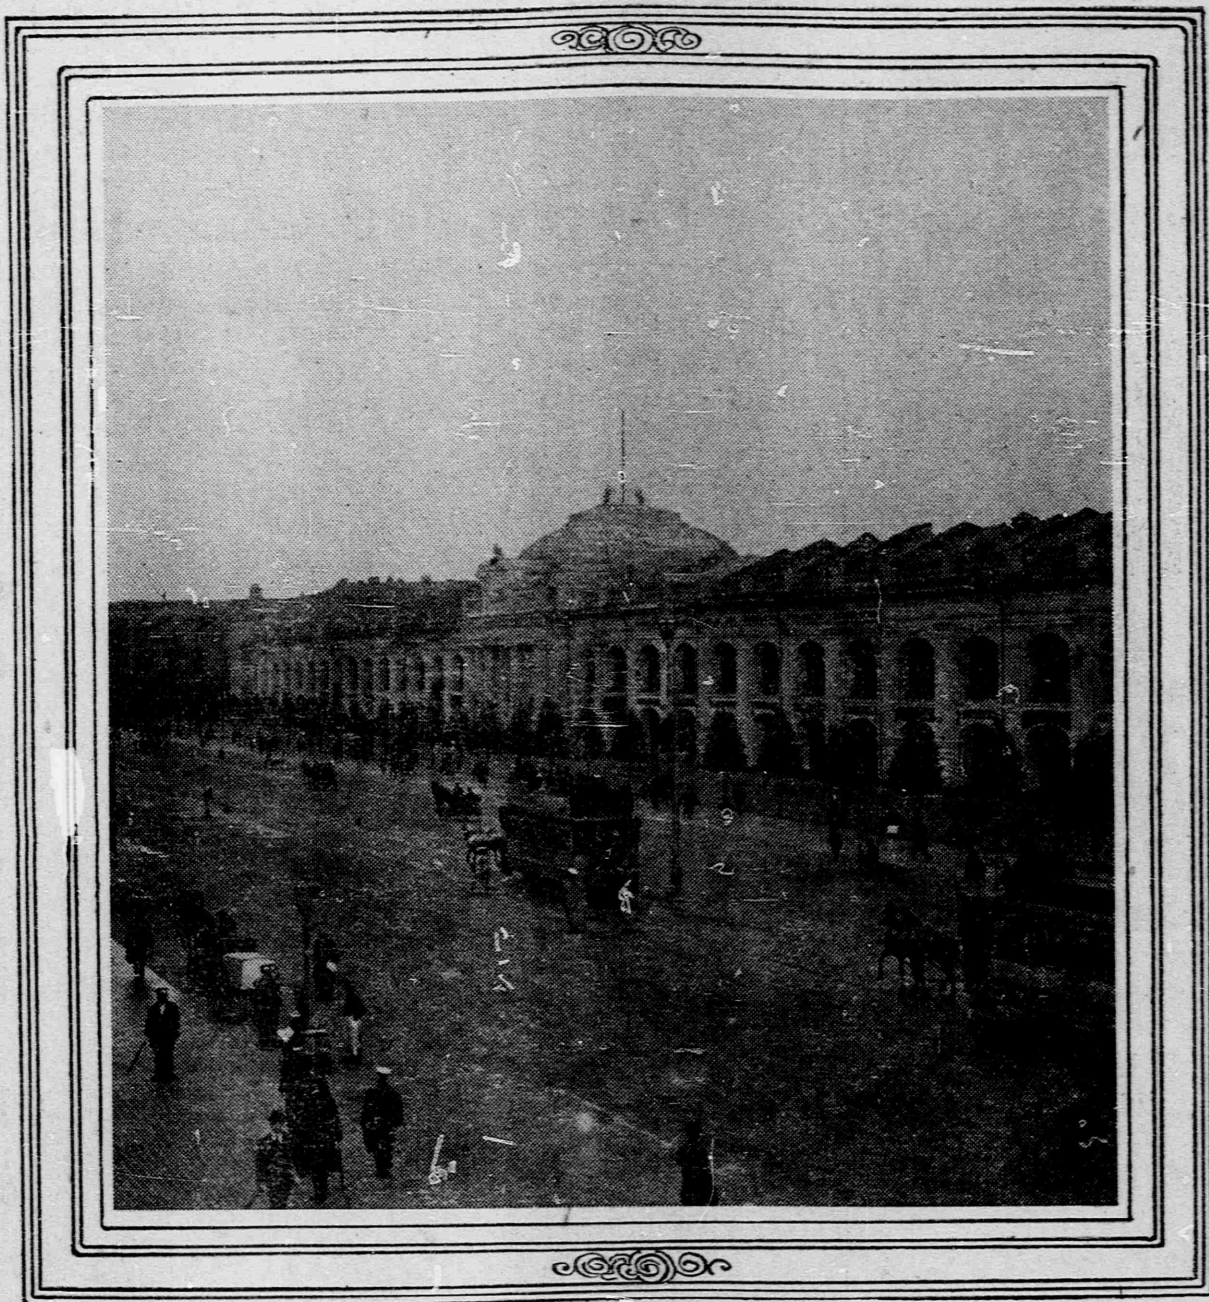

From several of these revolutionists it is learned positively that a provisional government has been ready for several days.

Hurt by Arrests.

Reformers assert that two members of the existing government, who were known to have progressive views, were recognized by General Trepoff, the new governor general of St. Petersburg, and their arrests are expected today.

It is realized that the arrest by Trepoff of the leaders of the progressive movement in St. Petersburg has struck a heavy blow to the movement. The one

NEVSKY PROSPECT

PRINCIPAL THOROUGHFARE OF ST. PETERSBURG.

It Was on This Avenue That the First Blood Was Shed. It Occurred Sunday When the Strikers Marched to the Winter Palace of the Czar.

INTENSE COLD WITH TODAY'S BLIZZARD

(Continued from First Page.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—Father Gapon is at liberty, but is in hiding. Inactive he is not.

No fewer than three letters of his have been circulated at secret meetings.

The following is an exact translation of his epistle to the Russian army:

"Against the soldiers and officers who are slaying their innocent brothers, together with their wives and children and against all oppressors of the people I utter my pastoral curse."

"Upon the soldiers who help the nation with liberty I invoke a blessing, and from the military oath of allegiance which they took to the traitorous Czar, I hereby absolve them."

GEORGE GAPON, "Priest."

Letters to Strikers.

A letter addressed to operatives says: "Brothers and workmen, the blood of the people has been spilled."

"We harbor within us sentiments of bitterness and vengeance against the Czar and the Jackals his ministers, and, believe me, the day is near when a host of workmen will rise up more menacing, more conscious and like one man will strike for their own freedom and the freedom of all Russia."

"Weep not for the slain heroes. Be comforted."

"Beaten we have been, but not conquered."

"Let us tear up all portraits of the bloodthirsty Czar and say to him, Be thou accursed, with all thy most repulsive blood."

GEORGE GAPON, "Priest."

A Vehement Epistle.

The most vehement of the three letters in part is as follows:

"Brothers and workmen, whose choice has been filled with blood: 'We intended to go peacefully to the Czar with a petition on January 22. Of this, our intention, we informed his Mameluke ministers beforehand, requesting them to withdraw the troops and not to hinder us from approaching our monarch.'

"To the Emperor himself I forwarded a letter on January 19, requesting him to come forth to his people with grateful heart and courageous soul. At the price of our own lives we guaranteed him inviolability of his person."

"And what came of it?" "Innocent blood was none the less shed. The miscreant Czar and his malicious officials, who are robbers of the treasury and plunderers of the Russian nation, deliberately resolved to beat and massacre our unarmed brothers, their wives, and children."

Cries for Vengeance.

"The bullets of the Emperor's troops, which at Narva Street killed workmen who were bearing the Emperor's portraits, pierced those portraits and killed our faith in the Czar."

"But we shall wreak vengeance, brothers, on the Czar, accused by his people, on all his ministers, on all his blood, on his ministers, and on all pillars of the ill-starred Russian land. Death to them all!"

"I call upon all who are seriously desirous of helping the hard-working Russian people to live and breathe freely to come forward and assist in this work. I call upon all thinking men, upon students, upon revolutionary organizations, the Social Democrats and Social Revolutionists to lend a hand."

"He who is not with the people is against the people."

BIG GUNS AT NEWPORT SCARE FISH AWAY

NEWPORT, Jan. 25.—Fishermen are preparing a petition to Congress to stop target practice by warships during the spring, summer and fall in the waters between Martha's Vineyard and Block Island. Fishermen declare that the firing frightens away the fish, especially bluefish and mackerel.

INTENSE COLD WITH TODAY'S BLIZZARD

(Continued from First Page.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—Father Gapon is at liberty, but is in hiding. Inactive he is not.

No fewer than three letters of his have been circulated at secret meetings.

The following is an exact translation of his epistle to the Russian army:

"Against the soldiers and officers who are slaying their innocent brothers, together with their wives and children and against all oppressors of the people I utter my pastoral curse."

"Upon the soldiers who help the nation with liberty I invoke a blessing, and from the military oath of allegiance which they took to the traitorous Czar, I hereby absolve them."

GEORGE GAPON, "Priest."

Letters to Strikers.

A letter addressed to operatives says: "Brothers and workmen, the blood of the people has been spilled."

"We harbor within us sentiments of bitterness and vengeance against the Czar and the Jackals his ministers, and, believe me, the day is near when a host of workmen will rise up more menacing, more conscious and like one man will strike for their own freedom and the freedom of all Russia."

"Weep not for the slain heroes. Be comforted."

"Beaten we have been, but not conquered."

"Let us tear up all portraits of the bloodthirsty Czar and say to him, Be thou accursed, with all thy most repulsive blood."

GEORGE GAPON, "Priest."

A Vehement Epistle.

The most vehement of the three letters in part is as follows:

"Brothers and workmen, whose choice has been filled with blood: 'We intended to go peacefully to the Czar with a petition on January 22. Of this, our intention, we informed his Mameluke ministers beforehand, requesting them to withdraw the troops and not to hinder us from approaching our monarch.'

"To the Emperor himself I forwarded a letter on January 19, requesting him to come forth to his people with grateful heart and courageous soul. At the price of our own lives we guaranteed him inviolability of his person."

"And what came of it?" "Innocent blood was none the less shed. The miscreant Czar and his malicious officials, who are robbers of the treasury and plunderers of the Russian nation, deliberately resolved to beat and massacre our unarmed brothers, their wives, and children."

Cries for Vengeance.

"The bullets of the Emperor's troops, which at Narva Street killed workmen who were bearing the Emperor's portraits, pierced those portraits and killed our faith in the Czar."

"But we shall wreak vengeance, brothers, on the Czar, accused by his people, on all his ministers, on all his blood, on his ministers, and on all pillars of the ill-starred Russian land. Death to them all!"

"I call upon all who are seriously desirous of helping the hard-working Russian people to live and breathe freely to come forward and assist in this work. I call upon all thinking men, upon students, upon revolutionary organizations, the Social Democrats and Social Revolutionists to lend a hand."

"He who is not with the people is against the people."

BIG GUNS AT NEWPORT SCARE FISH AWAY

NEWPORT, Jan. 25.—Fishermen are preparing a petition to Congress to stop target practice by warships during the spring, summer and fall in the waters between Martha's Vineyard and Block Island. Fishermen declare that the firing frightens away the fish, especially bluefish and mackerel.

olution. The members of the House who were present had braved the fury of the weather this morning, and, in consequence, were very anxious that something should be done.

So the bill was passed. The streets will be cleared.

BOATS ASHORE OFF NORFOLK

NORFOLK, Jan. 25.—Three vessels are reported ashore on the coast. Loss of life is said to have occurred.

BLIZZARD SWEEPS ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 25.—A big steamer was blown ashore during the gale this morning on the shoals at Brigantine.

Owing to the high wind and blinding snow it is impossible for the life-saving crews to render assistance.

The name of the boat cannot be ascertained at this time. A heavy blizzard is sweeping the city.

MANY BRAVE STORM AND SEE PRESIDENT

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Among the Callers. Several Westerners Introduced to Chief Executive.

Blizzard weather was braved by a goodly number of visitors at the White House today, but some of them came on minor matters of business or to make formal social calls.

Speaker Cannon spent a few minutes with President Roosevelt, and then hurried on to the Capitol.

"Whenever I get time," said the Speaker, cheerily, "I am going to take a trip up to Montreal or Winnipeg, where I can get some real cool weather. It makes a fellow feel fine and jolly when he can get a good, stiff winter breeze."

With Idaho, introduced to the President H. W. Keifer, of Idaho Falls, who bears the electoral vote of that State to Washington.

J. M. Wilson, of Douglas, Wyo., who brings the electoral vote from that State, was introduced to President Roosevelt by Representative Mondell.

Representative Murdock presented the Rt. Rev. John J. Hennessy, Bishop of Kansas, who is just returning from a visit to Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, who are missionaries to Japan, were introduced to the President.

DISPENSARY BILL KILLED.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 25.—The bill for State supervision of liquor sales has been killed by indefinite postponement.

A Full Dollar's Worth Free.

I searched the whole earth for a specific for Rheumatism—something that I or any physician could feel safe in prescribing—something that we could count on not only occasionally, but ALWAYS. For the ravages of Rheumatism are everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

After twenty years of search and experiment I learned of the expensive German chemical I now employ. And I knew then that my search and my efforts were well rewarded. For this chemical gave me the basis of a remedy which in the cure of Rheumatism is practically certain, as experience has proved.

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again—that is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of the pain and swelling—the end of the suffering—the end of Rheumatism.

Any Rheumatic sufferer who has not tried my remedy may have a full dollar's worth free. I ask no deposit, no reference, no security. There is nothing to pay, either now or later. To those who write promptly I will send my authoritative book on Rheumatism. Write today. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 556, Racine, Wis.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy.

IMMIGRANTS DIE FROM STARVATION

Ten Tragedies on Board the Vaterland.

DEPARTMENT WILL PROBE

Character of Persons Coming to This Country of Very Low Quality.

The Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Commerce and Labor, it was announced today, is to make a searching investigation into the death of ten passengers on the Red Star steamer Vaterland, from Antwerp, which arrived at New York yesterday, reporting the tragedies.

Commissioner General Frank P. Sargent has been investigating the character of immigrants coming to this country recently, and it has been found that there are the poorest in quality the United States has been receiving in many years.

Helped by Charitable Societies.

Evidence has also been discovered that the thousands of Russian Hebrews who are now pouring into the country are being helped by charitable societies, especially the officers of the Baron Hirsch fund. This is the class that fills up all the cheap boarding tenements of the cheapest kind on the east side of New York, and in the squalid parts of the other big cities, working for a few cents a day and coming in competition with American labor.

The London Home Society is paying the way to this country of hundreds of the least capable poor of the United Kingdom.

All records for deportations, owing to this influx, have been broken within the last few weeks.

Nothing to Eat for Days.

In the cases of the ten dead on the Vaterland, dispatches received say it has been discovered they had nothing to eat for several days on the trains coming from Russia to Antwerp, and after going on board of the vessel they were soon seasick, and were unable to take any nourishment.

In fact, it was said at the Department of Commerce and Labor today the unfortunate simply starved to death.

Orders were sent to the authorities at New York this morning to hold up all of the others on board and make an unusually exhaustive investigation as to the means by which they got to this country.

Commissioner Sargent has come to a standstill in his project for the establishment of bureaus for the distribution of immigrants about the country as they arrive at the immigration stations.

The matter is now before Congress and nothing can be done until that body takes action.

YOU CAN INTEREST HIM.

Any Man Over Fifty.

You can interest any man over fifty years of age in anything that will make him feel better, because while he may not as yet have any positive organic disease he no longer has the buoyancy and vigor of twenty-five nor the freedom from aches and pains he enjoyed in earlier years, and he very naturally examines with interest any proposition looking to the improvement and preservation of his health.

He will notice among other things that the stomach of fifty is a very different one from the stomach he possessed at twenty-five. That greatest care must be exercised as to what is eaten and how much of it, and even with the best of care, there will be increasing digestive weakness with advancing years.

A proposition to perfect or improve the digestion and assimilation of food is one which interests not only every man of fifty, but every man, woman and child of any age, because the whole secret of good health, good blood, strong nerves, is to have a stomach which will promptly and thoroughly digest wholesome food, because blood, nerves, brain tissue, and every other constituent of the body are entirely the product of digestion, and no medicine or food can possibly create pure blood or restore shaky nerves when a weak stomach is replenishing the daily wear and tear of the body from a mass of fermenting, half-digested food.

No, the stomach itself wants help, and in no round-about way, either; it wants direct, unmistakable assistance, such as is given by one of two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

These tablets cure stomach trouble because their use gives the stomach a chance to rest and recuperate; one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contains digestive elements sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food, such as bread, meat, eggs, etc.

The plan of digesting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply make matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark must be a humbug, whereas, as a matter of truth, any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of indigestion, heart burn, heart trouble, nervous prostration, and run-down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere. Inquire of

R. TENBROECK, Gen'l Eastern Agt., 207 Broadway, New York

HEBREW BAZAAR PLANS COMPLETE

Reports of Committees Show Arrangements Are Good.

SPEAKERS AT OPENING NIGHT

Many Schemes to Surprise and Delight Visitors—Dutch Inn and Japanese Pool.

Final arrangements for the fair and bazaar